OF SPECIAL INTEREST

The book "Nurse Around The World" by Iris Noble.

Although she was born in Calgary, the author of this book lived in the Pass when she was very young.

The Coleman Community Library is very interested in obtaining information concerning Miss Noble's family. Someone from this area may remember her family and be able to pass on some details concerning them. If you have any information, it can be forwarded by phone Mrs. Wecko, 363-3189 in Coleman. It would be greatly appreciated.

John Anthony Sikora 1889 - 1972

John Anthony Sikora of Coleman passed away in the CNP General Hospital, April 21, 1972 at the age of 82 years.

Born in Dolna, Czechoslovakia, May 11, 1889, he came to Pittsburg, U.S.A. in 1910, working in steel mills. He then came to Coleman in 1924 and has been a resident here since.

He had worked in various coal mines at Bankhead and McGillivray Mines until retiring in 1949.

Mr. Sikora married Frances Sitek in Czechoslovakia in 1919. Served in the 1st world war; was a member of Slovak Catholic Sokol and Catholic Men's Club, and UNMA.

He was predeceased by one son, Joe in Calgary in 1969 and his parents in Czechoslovakia.

Survivors include his wife, Frances, now a resident of Lacombe Home; three sons, John, Coleman; Tony, Calgary; Louis, Calgary; four sisters, Mrs. H. (Mary) Mysak, Calgary; Mrs. G. (Elizabeth) Joyce, Calgary; Mrs. R. (Anne) Lewis, Montreal; Sister Frances Sikora, St. Joseph's Order, Pittsburg, Ontario; thirty grandchildren and seven great grandchildren; one brother, Joe in Candiac, Sas., and one brother in Czechoslovakia.

"I THINK THAT I SHALL NEVER SEE A POEM AS LOVELY AS A TREE . . ."

NATIONAL FOREST WEEK is from May 7 to 13, sponsored nationally by the Canadian Forestry Association, to remind the public to plant and preserve trees and keep the country green.

Core should be taken during spring burning to avoid fire damaging nearby trees and new growth, and one should remember never to cut them down unnecessarily, because though it takes only a few minutes to destroy a tree it takes ten years to grow one.

Construction To Start On Radio Station For Pass

The construction is to start almost immediately on studio preparation, and also a transmitter site, which will be located north west of the hospital between Blairmore and Coleman.

Studios will be located downtown in Blairmore above Marcial Buildings. Supplies, second floor to be completely remodelled for studio facilities. It will house a complete production control room and studio with the most modern equipment available. Also available will be a general business office and a private office.

A staff of three is envisaged for the initial stages of operation; a combination salesman - manager, professional production announcer and a writer receptionist. There will be twenty-four hour operation daily.

It is planned that two and a half hours of prime time broadcasting per day will originate in the Blairmore studio, with the remainder of the broadcast schedule originating from CJOC's main studios in Lethbridge, and fed to the Blairmore transmitter by way of high-quality land lines, 1400K.

It will be broadcasting at 1,000 watts during day hours and 250 watts during the night. The station hopes to be on the air in early October of this year.

Bake Sale Successful

On Saturday, April 29, the Cross-nest Pass figure skating club held a bake sale at Simpson-Sears. The club sincerely appreciates the support of the Pass residents who made it successful.

MEETING DISCLOSES REG. PROGRAM HERE

A meeting was held in the Coleman Union Hall with a delegation of interested citizens and Coleman Town Council re: Coleman remaining in the Recreation Program.

The delegation perhaps assumed that Council had withdrawn from the Recreation Board after reading an article in the local press (April 12) inserted by the recreation director, stating that services to the Town of Coleman have been curtailed until approval of the budget is received.

It was explained that Coleman did not withdraw from the recreation board. In order to do so, they would have to give notice six months prior to withdrawal. This has not been done.

Council merely questioned the 1982 proposed budgets (4 budgets were presented since Dec.). These were exhibited and explanations were given as to how the first budget was not a workable one, and the recreation board would not have sufficient funds to operate for the entire year.

The second budget was not based on the current assessment figures and therefore rejected.

The third budget was presented to Council without first having been presented and approved by the recreation board, thus members felt they could not deal with it.

The fourth budget is at present under consideration. This one shows that 75.5% of the $30,181.15 is for administration. Money left for programs is $4,131.42 to be used for Bellevue, Blairmore, Frank, I.D. No. 5 district and Coleman.

Several of the groups directed questions to the council. Some felt that the budget was not the issue in question but a lack of communications between council and the recreation board. It was hoped that this would be resolved.

After meeting with this group, the council returned to their council chambers in the town hall to continue with business of their regular meeting.

Now that weather is favorable, construction is in full swing at the new subdivision, north of Coleman. Water and sewer will have to be installed in preparation for development.

Underwood & McElroy will be contacted for engineering services to this area.

Permission was given for several other mobile homes to be placed on lots in various areas.

A letter will be sent to a resident, who placed a building on a road allowance, and request him to have it moved. The Department of Highways are not in favor of this.

A letter from the Department of Transport in regard to the objection of Mr. Fabry's lease of road allowance was received. The Department will advise council of the outcome at a later date.

Mr. T. Kopycka attended a meeting in Blairmore to hear proposals offered regarding cable TV in this area. This is in its earliest studies. Council are in favor of serving the Pass with CFNC-TV with a satellite.

A meeting of the local PTA was held on April 24, with 24 interested people attending.

This meeting resulted in the organizing of a new group which will be called "The Home and School and Parent Teacher Federation."

Mr. H. VanDelt presided as chairman at the meeting and election of officers resulted in the following: President, Mr. H. VanDelt, Blairmore; treasurer, Mr. Wilkins, Bellevue; secretary, Mrs. M. Strickland, Coleman; vice-president, Mr. Wilson, Blairmore.

Another meeting will be held sometime in June at which time other officers will be elected. If you are interested, please make a note to attend the next meeting.

Mr. Larson was representative of the Unemployment Insurance Commission, from Calgary, was in the Coleman Miners Union Hall on Thursday, May 3 at 10:30 a.m.

Mr. Larson assisted those who were having problems with claims and discussed other problems.

Mr. Larson was also available Saturday, May 2 in the Coleman Miners Hall to explain to those present the Unemployment Insurance Act, how to file a claim form properly, etc.

A letter will be sent to Fine Line Homes regarding their performance in the subdivision. Council is quite dissatisfied as there are two excavations that are a hazard and thus they requested this be remedied.

A letter will be sent to Charlton & Hill requesting an estimate of appraisal of the arena road.

It was brought to the attention of council that the sewer system could use a shoulder device and thus eliminate many problems. There will be further discussion at a later date.

Tennis courts have been swept and nets are up and it is reported this facility is filled beyond capacity.

Council met with CUPE in regard to wage negotiations for town employees but no settlement was reached, therefore it has now gone to a conciliation board.

A court of revision was held and Council dealt with 19 complaints.

NEW SUBSTATION ENERGIZED AT CROWSNEST PASS

Calgary Power's new $275,000 substation in the Crowsnest Pass was energized last week. The substation located at Coleman replaces the old facility which had served the area since the 1920's.

The old substation situated in north Bellevue, was built by East Kootenay Power. One interesting feature of the original structure is that G. H. Thompson, now chairman of the board of Calgary Power built the original switchboard for the substation in the nearby compressor house of West Canadian Collieries.

In 1950, Calgary Power expanded the Bellevue facilities by adding on to the north end of the existing structure.

Much of the old substation will be dismantled with most of the apparatus moving to other parts of the company's system.

Construction began on the new facility in the fall of 1971 and work will continue on the substation.

Control of Mildew

With all that snow we received last month, some of you may be having problems with damp basements and perhaps mildew or mold. Spores of molds are the cause of mildew. In warm humid weather, they flourish on any substance that can provide the simple nutrients they require. A musty unpleasant odor advertises their presence. To prevent mildew, keep your home clean, well-ventilated and dry. In humid weather, ventilate your house when the air outside is drier than the air inside. (Cool air holds less moisture than warm air). So take advantage of cool nights for a thorough airing. Make sure that clothing in closets is hung loosely, so that air can circulate around it.

SHOWER FOR JACKIE LANT

Approximately 150 ladies enjoyed games of whist and bingo at a capital shower held in honor of Miss Jackie Lant on Monday, April 24 in the Elk's Hall, Coleman. Upon entering the hall, Mrs. Allean Rae played the Wedding March. Corsages were pinned on the bride-to-be by Judy Snowden; Mrs. J. Lant by Clara Marconi; Mrs. V. Bellesoe by Lee Wenisch; Mrs. M. Amatto by Babe Setta; Mrs. A. Bodisch by Phyllis Jones. The hall was beautifully decorated with spring flowers and hearts etc. Mrs. Tillie Korman, Irena Filafilo, Marg Krywolt, Dot Schilling and El Sygutek decorated the hall. A lovely lunch was served by the many hostesses. The future bride was then presented with many beautiful gifts, consisting of a chrome kitchen suite, electric coffee percolator, electric can opener, steam iron, clothes hamper, stainless steel set, ironing board, wear-ever pots and a breakfast set. Winner of 1st whist, Mrs. Jenny Reghenas; 2nd whist, Mrs. E. Kinnear, consolation, Rose Quarin. Door prize was won by Anne Gibas.

Jackie thanked her many friends for making her shower a memorable occasion, and for the many lovely and useful gifts. A special thanks to Marie Ulrich for donating the beautiful corsages. To Ricky Filafilo for the LOVE-IS sign, and to Mrs. I. Filafilo and Mrs. Tillie Korman for working so hard for her shower. Jackie will be married May 20th in the Holy Spirit Church, Coleman at 5 p.m.

remains, use a bleach.

Interior woodwork seldom mildews, especially if it is painted. If affected, scrub it with a mild alkali such as washing soda or tri-sodium phosphate, using 4-6 tablespoons to a gallon of water. Mildew resistant paints can be applied if desired.

and air and sun them thoroughly. Send non-washables to the dry cleaner and launder washables promptly with plenty of hot suds. Rinse and dry in the sun. If a stain and put articles, especially susceptible to mildew (shoes, luggage) on a shelf instead of on the floor. Sometimes, especially if a house has been closed, a brief heating will be needed to rid it of mildew-inducing dampness.

Electric Dehumidifiers

Draw in damp air, condensing the moisture it contains on refrigerated coils and may be a worthwhile investment. There are also chemical moisture absorbers available. Silica gel, activated alumina and calcium absorb moisture from the air, and are sold at drugstores, department stores, and some building supply dealers.

Silica Gel and the Alumina Granules absorb half their weight of water, feel dry even when saturated, are harmless to the fabrics, and can be dried out and used over and over. These chemicals are placed in small cloth bags which are suspended in clothes closets or placed in a pan on a shelf or floor.

Must Odors

In a basement or shower stall indicate mold growth. Usually thorough heating and drying will take care of the problem. You can sprinkle dirt floors in musty cellars with chloride of lime, let it remain until the odor is gone; then sweep it up. Scrub cement floors, tiled walls and tiled floors with a solution of chlorine bleach. Use one-half to one cup of bleach to each gallon of water. Rinse with clear water, and wipe as dry as possible, leaving the windows open to complete the process.

Also useful are low-pressure aerosol sprays which contain a fungitoxic chemical. Not all room sprays contain fungicides, so read labels carefully.

Was emulsion and silicone water-repellent sprays help keep moisture out of textiles and discourage mold growth. They are used on draperies, slip covers, golf bags, mattresses and similar articles.

To prevent mildew on clothing, don't let damp or wet clothing lie around. Don't place damp "soiled" clothing in the clothes hamper; dry it out first. Don't leave wash cloths and shower curtains bunched together; spread them out to dry. Don't sprinkle for ironing more articles than you can finish in one day. Don't store clothing or other textiles if they are not perfectly clean.

If clothing or household fabrics show spots of mildew they should be treated immediately. Brush off surface growth — out of doors if possible, to avoid scattering spores.

Frettin', Fussin' and Feudin'

Hundreds of scientists, university professors, professional writers out for a fast buck, psychologists and psychiatrists have written millions of words and coupled with the thousands expressed verbally by counsellors using questionable statistics, the world is still waiting to find out the cause for the ever increasing broken homes in the western world.

Recently a group of middle aged women in Canada from all walks of life and social strata under took a telephone and letter poll across the nation with questions dealing with causes for broken homes. Their questionnaire was quite simple and the questions numbered seven.

The results were the abuses of our present society and ranked as follows:

First was the abuse of alcohol which resulted in disharmony between man and wife and changed the mental attitude of children in the home.

Secondly, was gambling and credit. Lack of communication between the man and wife resulted in overexpending of income and increased use of alcohol to forget.

Thirdly, lack of unity in thought and purpose of man and wife to handle children in discipline, morals and a good "bringing up."

Fourthly, the new problem of narcotics which has no rhyme, reason or cause for its use, has brought heartbreak, concern and disparity among adults of the family.

The results of the survey indicated there were less broken homes where families were large than those families considered small.

It was the belief of most of those contacted, the family must become a family again. The sincere love of a mother must prevail with all members of the family and the father must be prepared to meet the same financial obligations for the family. The children must respect the family situation and their parents.

It would also appear a family should enjoy recreation together and all members of the family respect each others' opinions and wishes.

The church was noted as a possible medium for family re-unification but most people felt the church of today was a business and only existed for the purpose of opening doors Sunday, a centre for baptisms, marriages and funerals and was not meeting the responsibilities for which it represents itself.

There is no argument that each year the figures of broken homes increase. Modern methods in the sociology fields seem to have failed to date. Even counsellors are running out of advice and the courts of the land seem to have lost out on their middle of the road course in such matters.

It would seem in this modern world of "everything goes", the married adult of today must evaluate a new set of moral commandments which will be acceptable to members of the family.

Marriage in any part of the world is a contract of love, give and take overshadowed with a sincere sense of happiness and stability.

It has to begin sometime — it should begin now. Let's forget about all this family "frettin', fussin' and feudin'" and make this a better world in which to live.

More Post Office Reform

Postmaster General Jean-Pierre Cote said in Vancouver that his department "might have to reintroduce Saturday delivery" of mail unless it can find other ways of curing delays in deliveries on other days of the week.

Some people may find it rather remarkable that Mr. Cote should in effect confess that perhaps after all the idea of a post office is to serve the public. But the conversion, if it can be called that, is apparently not due to any tenderness for the public's convenience. Rather it appears the government's policy, which was to save money by cutting out Saturday deliveries, has recoiled upon it.

Reduction in operations has indeed cut down the operating deficit, but, said Mr. Cote, it has also led to deterioration in service.

This has been evident to businessmen and householders alike for a long time. The piling up of mail deliveries on Mondays and Tuesdays has been an annoyance to both as well as to the mail carriers.

The fall in productivity — which means simply the amount of work done by individual employees — perplexes post office officials. This runs contrary to what is hoped for when wages and working conditions are improved — as they obviously have been in the post office system over the past few years. There is something wrong, a fact made plain by the minister's confession that the department has had to hire more postal workers even as the volume of business mail has been falling off by nine per cent.

Mr. Cote says this state of affairs cannot continue, and the public says amen. But a government which deliberately sabotages mail service to save money, and then has to spend $17 million more a year to hire more people, is hardly in a position to inspire its workers to greater efforts to serve or to blame them for failing.

Reform should start at the top.

Horoscope

THIS IS YOUR LIFE

By TRENT VARRO

DON'T PAY TO HAVE YOUR HOROSCOPE READ

— READ IT HERE !!!

ARIES—March 21 to April 20

Whatever you do this week, don't allow yourself to be "talked into something" that you don't believe in. Your intuition will tell you what to do. Follow it, and you will gain!

TAURUS—April 21 to May 20

Astrologically, everything is so good in the sign of Taurus right now, that you may tend to become a little careless with details. You've got the world by the tail, but be cautious!

GEMINI—May 21 to June 20

A continuation of last week's message is indicated for Gemini. Social activities will undoubtedly be taking up much of your time. Don't let this make you forget your business commitments.

CANCER—June 21 to July 21

There is very definitely "some thing new" starting up in your life at the present time. This may take a variety of forms, depending upon your individual horoscope, but you can be sure it's good!

LEO—July 22 to August 21

Legal matters are still very strongly highlighted in the chart for Leo. You will do very well if you take last week's advice, and seek the advice of a good lawyer. Don't try to handle things by yourself.

VIRGO—August 22 to Sept. 21

If your birthday happens to fall in Virgo, you are right now, one of the luckiest persons in the world! Don't let this "go to your head" as it would only lead to trouble later. Be thankful for what you have.

LIBRA—Sept. 22 to Oct. 22

Over-enthusiasm over some project might just not work out as expected. Be very careful with details, and give all your attention to business matters. This is important.

SCORPIO—Oct. 23 to Nov. 21

Help those who have aided you in the past, and you'll see some great benefits coming your way. You have the charm and magnetism to accomplish this quite easily right now.

SAGITTARIUS—Nov. 22 to Dec. 20

Plenty of rest and sleep might do you the world of good, as you probably have been tiring yourself out with added burdens of responsibility. This is a good time for a holiday.

CAPRICORN—Dec. 21 to Jan. 19

Everything should be working out fine, if you are paying attention to the small details that are important in business. It would be wise to check carefully for fire hazards.

AQUARIUS—Jan. 20 to Feb. 18

You should hear some news sometime this week that will clarify many problems that have beset you in the past. There's a strong possibility that you may get some form of added income.

PISCES—Feb. 19 to Mar. 20

You might be given some added responsibility some time during the next week or so. You'll be able to handle this quite easily, by applying your special knowledge to some specific problem.

Students Visit Kootenay Fish Hatcheries

A visit to the Kootenay Fish hatcheries was experienced by the grade 4 students of the Horace Allen School on Thursday, April 27. The purpose of the trip was to show the students the life cycle of the fish.

Mrs. J. Grand, the grade 4 science teacher hoped that the field trip would reinforce the students learning of life science which the students are presently studying. The trip was not only educational but also enjoyable.

Accompanying Mrs. Grand and her forty grade 4 students were Mrs. Willoughby, Mr. Frier, and their driver, Tony Coccione.

Report From

PARLIAMENT HILL

ALLEN SULATYCKY
M.P.
... Rocky Mountain

Many constituents have written to me regarding Bill C-7, an Act to amend the Explosives Act. These amendments have been interpreted by many to be a restriction on the lawful use of guns, rifles and ammunition for hunting and sporting purposes.

I would be firmly opposed to any legislation having that effect, and I would make every effort to prevent the passage of such an Act. Responding to representations made by myself and others, however, the Minister of Energy, Mines and Resources has issued a clear statement of the intentions of the Bill in question.

The Hon. Donald S. Macdonald stated that Bill C-7, now before the House of Commons, does not suggest "any changes that will significantly affect handloaders, shooters, gun clubs, hunters or any other sporting group."

Much of the controversy surrounding Bill C-7 was caused by the presence of the word ammunition in the definition of explosives. This has prompted many sporting groups to conclude that all types of ammunition will be restricted if Bill C-7 is passed.

"This is simply not the case," said Mr. Macdonald. "The definition of explosives contained in Bill C-7 is identical to that appearing in the present Explosive Act except for a general modernization of language and terms. In both definitions, the words 'ammunition of all descriptions' are used. The new Bill places no more restriction on consumer-type explosives than exists under present legislation."

"Bill C-7," said Mr. Macdonald, "is designed to bring our legislation in line with new developments in explosives technology and the new uses found for this technology since the Act was last amended in 1956."
